Life's Like That !

When a taxi passenger tapped the driver on the shoulder to ask him a question, the driver screamed, lost control of the vehicle, nearly hit a bus, mounted the pavement and stopped just short of a shop window. As he came to his senses, the driver shouted at the passenger: "Don't ever do that to me again! You scared the living daylights out of me!"

The passenger apologized and said that he hadn't realised a little tap would scare him so much.

"No I'm sorry," said the taxi driver, calming down. "It's not really your fault. Today is my first day as a cab driver – I've been driving hearses for the last twenty-five years!"
